

J1939 Product Guide reminder for 2008

The J1939 Product Guide is a convenient and efficient means of reaching your target group: people who are looking for specific J1939 Products.

The J1939 Product Guide 2008 will also be available at CiA's web site (www.can-cia.org/products/) as the 2007-issue has been. The hardware circulation in 2007 is 1.000 CD-ROM, which will be distributed at national and international fairs and exhibitions and also at CiA training events and upon request. All advertisers may order the number of CD-Roms they require for distribution to their customers and business partners.

If you are interested in publishing your product(s) in the J1939 Product Guide 2008, please fill in the form provided below and mail or fax it back to the CiA office. We will register you and remind you right in time to place your order and to provide your product data.
